

When it comes to business angel funding...

We wrote the book

As a truly unbiased and independent intermediary we enjoy relationships with an unrivalled network of private business angels, venture capital companies, corporate venturers, government funds, banks and government grant providers.

Ours is a reputation built on delivering in the one area that really matters: Funding your business, flexibly and efficiently. Clients value our no-nonsense, practical and experienced approach, and so do our peers - which is why c2Ventures is a founder member of the British Business Angel Association.

We specialise mainly in quality media, technology, FMCG, and publishing-based businesses looking to raise between £350,000 to £2m of growth finance (although in special cases we have been known to take on businesses outside our usual focus). All we ask in return is that you are serious about growing your business, have a clear exit strategy...and an open mind.
